

Watch & Win

Log & Timber Style, the only magazine for the high-end, custom-built log and timber style home devotee, is now appearing on HGTV (Home & Garden Television)!

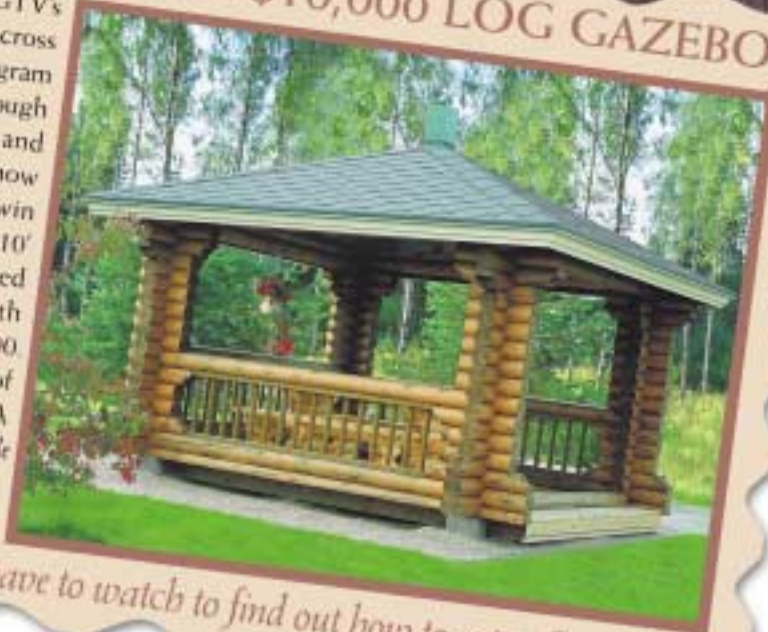

JUDY LAWRENCE

In partnership with Honka Homes USA, Log & Timber Style will be running commercial spots on HGTV's "Homes Across America" this summer. A perfect complement to Log & Timber Style, "Homes Across America" celebrates fine homes across the United States, and the diversity of American home design.

Each episode presents three homes in loving detail, focusing on the design elements that make the homes distinctive and also telling the story of their owners and designers. Show host Joe Ruggiero has featured houses from every state in the Union, and always presents a home in the context of its location and American heritage.
