NFL quarterback Steve Young

When the NFL quarterback legend Steve Young decided to build his dream log home for his family, he turned to Honka, the world leader in log homes. It's no surprise that after 50 years and 70,000 log structures, Honka has become the largest log home producer in the world. And we've learned a thing or two along the way. With our ecologically sound harvesting, our patented milling processes and expert construction, no one is more qualified or more experienced to manufacture your log next home. Give a call to one of our independent builder/dealers and let's start talking about the home you've been dreaming about. That's what Steve did.
